SOME FAMOUS HYMNS.

Nearly All Great Religious Songs the Result of Inspiration.

It is more true, perhaps, of hymns than of any form of poetry that they owe their origin to some sudden inspiration that seldom is repeated, says the Chicago Tribune. The great "Te Deum," that pean of Christianity, is said to have been first sung at the baptism of St. Augustine. Certain it is that it was the first hymn which Columbus and his sailors sang when they set foot on the New World and planted the flag of Spain.

Thomas di Celano, a scholar of St. Francis, of Assisi, wrote "Dies Iræ." One of the best versions in English is that of Lord Roscommon, who died with two lines of it on his lips.

The "Veni, Sancte Spiritus" came from King Robert, of France.

They still show in Cornwall those features of the landscape which proved an inspiration to Wesley. He wrote many hymns, however, and this article has to do only with those who were obscure and had but one or two great moments of inspiration.

"Rock of Ages," a hymn which has been a great comfort to Christians, was written by Augustus Toplady in 1778. The author's life was a troubled one; his creed underwent changes; his temper was fiery. The better part of his nature seems to have blossomed forever in this hymn.

Bishop Heber wrote much besides the missionary hymn "From Greenland's Icy Mountain;" but it is by that that he will be chiefly remembered.

Joseph Hart, a native of London, where he was born in 1712, was the author of "Come Ye Sinners, Poor and Needy."

Sir Walter Shirley, an English Knight and preacher, who died in 1786, composed the beautiful hymn, known as "Sweet the Moments Rich in Blessing."

Dr. Timothy Dwight, one of the early presidents of Yale, wrote many ponderous and learned works on theology; but the reason why he will be longer remembered than many another theologian is that he was the author of "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord."

"Nearer! My God, to Thee" was composed by Sarah Fuller Flower. She married a civil engineer named Adams in 1834. She died in 1849 at the age of forty-four, and lies buried near Harlow, in Essex.

John Keble, the eminent English divine, wrote many learned volumes. He lives in the affections of his countrymen, however, as the author of "Sun of My Soul, Thou Saviour Dear."

"Just as I Am, Without One Plea" was written by Miss Charlotte Elliott, of Clapham, Eng. How she came to compose it was curious. A clergyman asked her one day if she were a Christian. She replied that she felt unworthy to approach the Lord. "But come just as you are," suggested the clergyman. The words touched her and she put them in the form by which they are known to Christians all over the world. Miss Elliott died in 1871.

"I Would Not Live Alway" was written fifty years ago by Rev. Dr. Muhlenberg. It is a hymn which has comforted many mourners and given its author a lasting fame.

"Ninety and Nine," a hymn which was a great favorite with Moody and Sankey congregations, was written by Miss Elizabeth C. Clephane, a Scottish lady. Mr. Sankey supplied the music.

The "Lead, Kindly Light" of Dr. John Henry Newman (now Cardinal Newman) was written during a voyage to England. This hymn is said to be a great favorite with Queen Victoria. It seems to be loved equally by all Christian sects. Its venerable author is still living.

The late Matthew Arnold severely criticised those hymns of a Salvation Army order in which, however commendable may have been the intention of the author, the language descends to a vulgar plane. "Bad music and bad poetry in the end are dangerous," said Mr. Arnold. Among hymns that have been degraded to common-place uses is the "Sweet By and By." Its history is a curious one:

Prof. Joseph P. Webster, the author of the music, was at times subject to deep melancholy. Entering his office one day in one of his blue fits his partner, Bennett, asked him:

"What is the matter now?"

"No matter," was the answer; "it will be all right in the sweet by and by."

"Sweet by and by!" echoed Bennett. "That's a good sentiment for a hymn. I'll try it."

He turned to his desk, wrote three stanzas rapidly, and handed them to Webster. The latter was surprised and moved. He immediately made a draft of a musical staff and began to fill it with notes.

"Bennett," he said, "I've set music to your words; come, let us sing it."

And in a few weeks, throughout the length and breath of the country, old and young were singing "Sweet By and By."

Not Fallen So Low as That.

An English magazine, in an article on restaurants, tells of a New York speculator who came to grief and went to work as waiter in a cheap eating-house in that city. To this waiter's table came a broken-down, seedy-looking individual of an aristocratic, Fifth avenue, brown stone front type, sneaking in with every sign of being very much ashamed of himself. When the waiter arrived to take his order there was mutual recognition, and the new-comer murmured: "Great Scott, Thompson! you here?" The attendant showed no sympathy at all, but, drawing himself up haughtily, drily replied: "Yes, Jones, I wait here, but I don't dine here."

PRACTICAL INSURANCE.

The Novel Scheme of Co-Operation Invented by a Boston Genius.

A form of practical insurance against want is under advisement in this city, in which a large portion of the laboring people should be deeply interested, says the Boston Herald. A working-man is often thrown out of employment and reduced to great distress because he has little or no money laid by, and is unable to provide for his board and lodging while out of employment. It has been suggested that a people's mercantile company might be formed among themselves which would undertake to provide board and lodging with landlords at the rate of $4, $5 or $6 a week, on such terms that, after one month of regular payments, one week's board at half pay might be placed to the credit of the interested party, so that if he were out of work or sick, or otherwise disabled, he might not be brought to discomfort because he could not pay his board. At this rate in six months a man would be entitled to one and a half months' credit for board, and in one year to three months' credit for board, which, at half rates, would only cost him the price of one and a half months' board anywhere.

This plan, if it could be carried out, would be a great relief to hundreds of working people who are suddenly disabled or compelled to be idle. It would be impossible for anybody to fall rapidly in debt to such a company, and only in cases of extreme misfortune would persons be willing to surrender their certain insurance of food and lodging, which would grow larger as the years rolled by. A company of this kind would need to have a responsible backing in order to secure public confidence, but though it has never been attempted, it could easily be conducted on the basis which is common to similar undertakings. Payments would be made to landlords the same as now, and the company, after collecting a twenty per cent. discount every week for a month, could afford to give one week's credit and do business on that basis. The credits would not be transferable except by consent of the company of directors, and would be dealt with by them in the same manner as if they were a life insurance policy. When such a company was established its range of restaurants or lodging and boarding-houses would be such as to meet the wants of all classes of people. This is a system of co-operative effort, but it would be a company that could accumulate capital and increase its resources in proportion to its membership. It would thus be a safe investment for individuals without involving them in any personal responsibility beyond what their regular payments would demand.

This organization is not yet in existence, but it is one of the first practical suggestions for self-help which has sprung out of the movement for Christian socialism in Boston, and when it is properly developed and brought into shape it looks as if it might meet a present and pressing need among people who are not forehanded and are not accustomed to making investments for themselves.

ORIGIN OF BEN HUR.

How General Wallace Came to Write His Now Famous Novel.

Talking with an intimate friend of General Lew Wallace the other day, says a writer in the New York Star, I learned the true inspiration of his famous novel, "Ben Hur." "Wallace was on an Eastern-bound train," said my informant, "and while going through the drawing-room car he passed the open door of a compartment in which sat Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll. 'Come in,' said the latter. 'I'm lonely in here, and want some one to chat with.' Wallace entered, and seated himself. 'All right, Colonel,' he said, 'what shall we chat about?' 'Lots of things,' replied Ingersoll. 'Is there a future life?' Looking out of the window dreamingly, as the express sped on, he answered his own query. 'I don't know—do you? Is there a God? I don't know—do you? Was Christ the son of God? I don't know—do you?' He paused and looked keenly at Wallace. The General was a little embarrassed by the abruptness of the great infidel's interrogatories. He replied: 'Really, Ingersoll, I have never given much thought or study to the questions you propound. I had a Christian training, and I have always tacitly accepted them.' 'Indeed?' said Colonel Ingersoll. 'Why, man, you surprise me! They are vital issues. I have studied the subject thoroughly. Every man ought to. Now, take my advice and look into the matter. You'll find you'll agree with me.' 'I went away from this interview both embarrassed and mortified,' said the General, 'that I did not feel competent to discuss so important a matter with so learned a thinker. I made up my mind that I would never place myself again in so embarrassing a situation. I took down my books, and read every authority I could lay my hands on. After a year's study, so far from agreeing with the great agnostic in his expressed opinions, I wrote 'Ben Hur.' That is my reply to him!'"

She Was Too Fascinating.

The proprietress of a cafe on the Boulevard des Italiens recently said to a young and impecunious journalist: "This is the sixth time you have been here without saying a word about the money you owe me, monsieur! What am I to understand by it?" "Ah, madame," said the witty journalist, "when one sees you one forgets every thing."

THE GIRL WHO WOOS.

Treat Your Sweetheart Much as You Would an Invalid.

I may as well be frank at once and say I do not like the maid who does the wooing, says the Ladies' Home Journal. She is usurping the privilege of her knight, and if I were he I should turn and flee. "But," says Ethilinda, "he needs encouragement!" Perhaps he does. But not too much of it. When you want to give an invalid something to increase his appetite you do not offer to eat for him; instead you offer a dainty bit, a little spice or a little acid that quickens the taste and makes a great hunger come. Treat your sweetheart in the same way. Let him be conscious that you are pleased with his liking; but do not for a minute take away his prerogative and do the wooing. No man has a true appreciation for good things too easily obtained. Man is yet a little bit of a savage, and the hunt is always a delight to him. Your eyes may reflect his love, but they need not announce yours first, thereby sending out an invitation. My dear girl, ask almost any man you know what his favorite flower is, and, after he has thought, he will tell you either the violet or the rose. One grows surrounded and protected by green leaves, and to get it perfect—that is, with a stem—you have to reach down and pluck it carefully, but in a determined way. The other is guarded by sharp thorns, and though it stands up in a most dignified way, it resists, except by its encouraging sweetness, the one brave enough to take it from the parent tree. You can learn a good lesson in a flower garden; you see the hollyhocks plant and know that they are the forward beauties of the world of flowers, you see the lilies with their bowed heads, and are convinced that beauty without faith is of little worth; you are aware of a dainty perfume, and know the little lady, whose qualities surpass her charms—the mignonette—is near; you can see the masculine girl in "Johnny-jump-ups"; you can see the positive one in the gaudy sunflower; you can see the aggressive one in the scarlet geranium, and you can think of them all and conclude this, the ones worth having, sweet of perfume and restful in color, are not the ones that protrude themselves on your vision, and say, as do some flowers and some maidens: "Take us."

HINT FOR SHOPPERS.

How Franklin Surprised a Customer Who Wasted His Time.

One morning when Benjamin Franklin was busy in the press-room on his newspaper, a lounger stepped into the book-store and spent an hour or more in looking over the books. Finally he seemed to settle upon one, and asked the clerk the price.

"One dollar," the clerk answered.

"One dollar," echoed the lounger; "can't you take less than that?"

"One dollar is the price," the clerk answered.

The would-be purchaser looked over the books awhile longer and then inquired: "Is Mr. Franklin in?"

"Yes, he's busy in the printing office," the clerk replied.

"Well, I want to see him," said the man.

The clerk told Mr. Franklin that a gentleman was in the store, waiting to see him. Franklin soon appeared and the stranger said:

"What is the lowest, Mr. Franklin, that you can take for that book?"

"One dollar and a quarter," was the prompt answer.

"One dollar and a quarter! Why, your clerk asked me only a dollar just now."

"True," replied Franklin, "and I could have better afforded to take a dollar than to leave my work."

The man seemed surprised and, wishing to end a parley of his own seeking, said: "Well, come now, tell me your lowest price for this book."

"One dollar and a half."

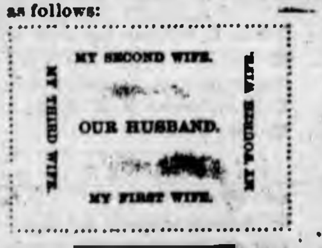
"A dollar and a half! Why, you offered it yourself for a dollar and a quarter."

"Yes," said Franklin, coolly, "and I had better have taken that price then, than a dollar and a half now."

This was a way of trade which took the man quite by surprise. Without a word he laid the money on the counter, took his book and left the store.

A Grave-Yard Curiosity.

In New London, Conn., there is a lot in the city cemetery containing five graves, those of a man and his four wives. The women's graves form four sides of a square, the man reposing in the center, while the inscriptions are as follows:



Diamonds Departing.

The most prominent jewelers now admit that even the diamond solitaire earring has almost departed. Many fashionable women with earrings worth a fortune no longer wear them, but have the stones reset in hair ornaments, brooches or bracelets. Possibly the fashion will never be revived. The antiquarian in the twenty-fifth century may note, as a distinct advance in civilization, the date when women ceased to bore their flesh to insert ornaments.

In 22 years the Order of United Workmen has increased from 13 members to 250,000 in the United States, California being credited with 18,000. The Bee says the Order has disbursed in twelve years in Sacramento alone $100,000.

John L. Stillman has been convicted of the murder of John D. Fiske at Fresno, and life imprisonment recommended. Thomas P. Ryan, formerly of Bodie, was one of Stillman's counsel.

The new City Hall in San Francisco has cost $86,914,652 20, and it will cost $1,000,000 more to complete it. The taxpayers of that city have something to point at as the fruits of Buckley rule in that city.

A brush fire on Goat Island on Sunday last destroyed considerable Government property.

OUR NEXT GOVERNOR.

The tour of Colonel Markham through the State has been a remarkable one, as he has met with grand receptions at every place and leaves hosts of friends behind him who will give him a cordial support on election day. As the decisive day approaches, the Democracy are put to their wits end to find some way to turn the tide that is so surely carrying Henry Harrison Markham into the State Capitol; and in their great straits they are resorting to the same despicable practices they indulged in a few days before the Garfield election, when they sprung the Morey forged letter on the people of this State, and to the truth of which they swore themselves blue until the result they desired was accomplished—the defeat of Garfield in this State. At this late day they have started another forged letter, intending to effect the Irish-Republican vote. The letter has been shown to be another Democratic forgery, and Col. Markham has publicly denounced it as such, but the Democratic papers continue t flaunt the forgery before the people as they did the damnable Morey letter.

In this campaign the Democracy claim much through the popularity of Mayor Pond in San Francisco. Pond has never been as popular as Mayor Bartlett was, and yet Bartlett beat Swift only 652 votes, and Swift had the bulk of the American party vote against him. Swift did not enjoy the popularity in the Southern counties that Markham does, and the Republican vote has been greatly increased in the past four years throughout the entire Southern belt, so Mr. Pond is not going to have a walk over, as the Democratic papers and orators would have us believe.

Col. Markham is adding strength to his ticket wherever he goes, and there is no doubt of his election by a handsome majority; and also the entire Republican ticket.

California is Republican by 10,000 majority; and this is acknowledged by all fair minded Democrats, and the Examiner, and they only hope to elect Pond through his supposed popularity in San Francisco, but they have no hopes of electing any one else on their ticket. Every Republican should vote the straight ticket, from Markham to Road Overseer.

A SOLID REPUBLICAN FRONT WILL WIN.

The Republicans of Mono county never had a better ticket to vote than that to be balloted on Tuesday next, and there are no good reasons why it should not be elected, as no Democrat can be elected without Republican votes; hence a solid Republican front will win by from 120 to 140 majority. Who has a claim upon the dominant party of Mono, the man who voted for Harrison and Protection, or the one who voted for Cleveland and the so-called Tariff Reform? Certainly not the latter! The importance of electing C. L. Walter to the Senate, and Frank E. Hunewill to the Assembly cannot be too strongly impressed upon the party. The election of one United States Senator by the Assembly of which Hunewill should be a member; and the election of two by the Senate of which Walter should be a member, is a National question—far above local issues. And the same will apply to the apportionment of the State into Congressional, Senatorial and Assembly Districts by the Legislature next Winter. Of course, the Republicans of Mono would prefer to have their county placed by a Republican Legislature. They do not care to be manipulated into Democratic Districts. To prevent this, vote for Walter and Hunewill for the Legislature. Of the Senate, 16 Repblicans and 4 Democrats hold over. A gain of three from the sixteen Democratic Districts will give the Senate to the Republicans. The Republicans are confident of carrying a number of the Districts, one of which is this, and we think they will capture it.

What a lonesome man Curtis, the Democratic candidate for Congress in this—the Sixth—District must be. After the election it will be difficult to convince him he has been running.

Cleaning Russet Shoes.

Do you of the russet shoes know how to clean the leather and restore it to its first estate? Of course you have tried the varnish and washes and found them altogether vexation of spirit. And the real thing is so easy when you know about it. Just squeeze the juice of a lemon on a bit of soft cloth, give the leather a thorough treatment with this, and see if your shoes don't look as well as they did when you bought them.

South America's Wind Flower.

A flower has been discovered in South America which is only visible when the wind blows. The shrub belongs to the cactus family and is about three feet high. The stem is covered with dead, warty-looking lumps in calm weather. These lumps, however, need but a slight breeze to make them unfold large flowers of a creamy white, which close and appear as dead as soon as the wind subsides.

The Cause of Death.

People are laughing at a doctor in a little village in Pennsylvania who, in filling out a certificate of death, inadvertently wrote his own name in the blank space reserved for "cause of death."

A sea-serpent, 108 feet long, was seen to coil itself up in slippery folds on the coast of Florida last month. Three reliable persons saw this creature distinctly.

Reader, the above is a "yarn." If people would believe the following truthful statement as readily as they swallow sea-serpent stories, it would be the means of saving thousands of lives. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, if taken in time and given a fair trial, will actually cure consumption of the lungs, which is really scrofulous disease. If this wonderful medicine does not do all we recommend, when taken as directed, we will cheerfully and promptly return all money paid for it. Can any offer be more generous or fair? No other medicine possesses sufficient power over that fatal malady—Consumption, to warrant its manufacturers in selling it under such trying conditions. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not only the most wonderful alterative, or blood-cleanser, known to medical science, but also possesses superior nutritive and tonic, or strength-giving properties, which assist the food to digest and become assimilated, thus building up both strength and flesh. For all cases of Bronchial, Throat and Lung Diseases, accompanied with lingering coughs, it is absolutely unequaled as a remedy. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, and kindred affections, it surpasses all other medicines.

$500 REWARD is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Catarrh in the Head which they cannot cure. By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases, no matter how bad, or of how long standing. Fifty cents, by druggists.

BRIDGEPORT, NOVEMBER 1, 1890.

Official Press.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Personal.

Misses Ella Hughes and Bertha Murphey have gone to Bishop to spend the Winter.

A. F. Bryant returned from Carson this noon, accompanied by his nephew, W. Searles, and wife, of San Francisco.

THE BODIE MINES.

BODIE.

John W. Kelly, Superintendent.

October 31.

The breaking of the cam shaft suspended milling operations for three days. Ore is being stoped from the 700 level, 500 Jupiter level and above 400 old Bodie shaft.—During the week, $15,532 93 were shipped.

THE STANDARD.

Arthur Macy, Superintendent.

October 31.

During the week have made important connections on the 400 level and 500 incline level—the former a cross-cut connecting with a long upraise from 500 foot level, and giving two stopes on the same ledge. Grade of ore has improved some. A car load, 20,056 of concentrations, valued at $1,000; was shipped on Wednesday. At end of week will clean up for monthly bullion shipment. Snowshed is being constructed over tramway running from Bulwer Tunnel to old Standard Mill.

NOT SO GREEN.—The Democrats are making a special plea for Republican votes for the Democratic Assemblyman, on the ground that it will make no difference to the people of this Assembly and Senatorial District as to who is elected United States Senator That don't go. The Republicans of Alpine Inyo and Mono are not such fools as to vote for Goucher and Eldred, and perhaps elect a Democrat to the U. S. Senate. We are aware that the Republicans have done some very foolish voting heretofore, but they propose to stand by their ticket on Tuesday next.

A SMASH UP.—On Saturday last A. F. Bryant took a party of ladies and gentlemen out to the Buckeye Hot Springs, and while they were enjoying the luxury of their annual bath the horses got untied and took a spin down the hill, arriving at the bath house without the wagon, which had been upset and left, badly demoralized. The wreck was tied up enough to enable Capt. Bryant to get to port with his passengers. A new wagon has been ordered from San Francisco.

THE DANCE.—The ball given at Henry Williams, Sweetwater, last night was largely attended, all this section being well represented. The music by Hayes and Sheridan, of Bridgeport, and Miss Celia Roach, was excellent, and a fine supper was served at midnight. Everything passed off very pleasantly.

Honest taxpayers are asked to vote against and defeat William Stewart for Sheriff because he voted in favor of reducing a rascally printing bill $50. For that act he is called "no business man, and a poor Supervisor" by the Bodie sorehead.

DELINQUENT SALES.—Under "New Today" will be found the delinquent sale notices of the Goleta, Montecito and Sterling Mining Companies, of Jordan District; the sales of delinquent stock to take place November 24th.

HE IS AROUND.—The campaign liar is getting his work in, but he will find that he is injuring his clients. Candidates who are required to have known liars to bolster them up ought to be downed.

STUDY THEM.—The election officers will do well to study the new election laws, as there are radical changes in the method of canvassing the votes.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. S. W. Albone will hold services in the School House to-morrow at 11 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

TAXES.—In another column will be found the notice of Tax Collector Cody that State and County Taxes are due, and must be paid at his office.

FIRE.—On Tuesday evening, at Lundy, the residences of John Becker and Louis S. Amiot were burned to the ground—supposed to be incendiarism.

On Tuesday next the polls open at sun rise and close at five o'clock.

THE BUCCANEERS OF OLD

Flaunted the skull and cross bones, their ensign, defiantly at the masthead. Your modern pirate, not on the high seas, but upon the high reputation of standard remedies skulks under various disguises. His hole and corner traffic has never to any degree affected Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, although that standard invigorant and corrective has long been the shining mark at which his shafts have been directed. Cheap local bitters, composed of fiery unrectified stimulants, with an infusion, or extract possibly, of some tonic bark, are still sometimes recommended as identical with, or similar to, or possessing virtues kindred to those of America's chosen family medicine. These perish speedily, while the great subduer and preventive of disease pursues its successful career, overcoming malaria, dyspepsia, nervousness, kidney troubles, constipation and rheumatic ailments, not only on this, but on many continents.

THE WRONG SIDE.—Through an oversight we neglected to mention a pleasant call the CHRONICLE-UNION office had last week from J. R. Eldred, Sheriff of Inyo county, and the Democratic candidate for the Assembly from this District. Mr. Eldred is a very pleasant, intelligent gentleman, but unfortunately belongs to the wrong party in this campaign. He has had legislative experience, having been in the Nevada Legislature of 1878, being one of 13 Democrats out of 75 members of that notorious body of legislators—probably one of the worse Legislatures Nevada ever had. He resided then in Esmeralda county, Nev. Since then he has resided in Inyo county, and served a term as Supervisor, and is now Sheriff of that county. He realizes the fact that he is running in a strong Republican District and against a talented young man who is the representative of the party of progress and the friend of the mechanic and working man; and that the pending election of a U. S. Senator, for whom the next Assemblyman will vote, will prevent him receiving any Republican votes—unless given through a warm personal friendship. We submit that Democrats do not vote for Republican candidates for Legislature when a Senator is to be elected, and why should they ask and expect Republicans to vote for a Democrat under like circumstances? Mr. Eldred is entitled to his full party vote and will undoubtedly receive it—and F. E. Hunewill will receive the full Republican vote. His Democratic friends count on his polling a large vote in Inyo because he carried that Republican county for Sheriff. Democrats have been elected to office in Mono county by large majorities, but not one could have been elected to the Assembly—particularly when United States Senators are to be elected, and the Assembly and Senatorial Districts are to be reconstructed, as will be the case this next Winter.

GIVE US SOMETHING!—Our Democratic fellow citizens, who are in a large minority in this county, should not expect to take all the important offices every two years and let the Republicans stay out in the cold. Two years ago the Republicans of this county elected Democrats to the three important offices in their gift—Superior Judge O. F. Hakes, Sheriff M. J. Cody and District Attorney C. L. Hayes. Judge Hakes, by appointment and election, has served four years, receiving therefor the sum of $12,000. Sheriff Cody will have received at the end of this year the grand sum of $10,000 for two years services. Should not these gentlemen be thankful for what the Republicans of Mono have done for them; and should the Republicans not give their own candidates the preference this year? For Superior Judge the Republicans have William H. Virden, who has been a resident of the county these many long years, and has ever enjoyed the friendship and esteem of his fellow-citizens, and during all this time his character for honesty of purpose, and integrity in all business matters, has never been questioned. While he has had no experience on the bench, he has had important cases in our courts, and been as successful in their conduct as any of our lawyers have been. He was admitted last Winter to practice before the Supreme Court after a very searching and thorough examination in open Court, and if elected Superior Judge he will be an upright, conscientious Judge. As the nominee of the dominant party of the county there is no reason why he should not be elected.

Why should not William Stewart have a show at the Sheriff's salary the next two years? The salary of that officer will be reduced next Winter, and it would be very wrong for Republicans to compel Cody to keep the office another two years at a reduced salary.

The present Democratic District Attorney is not a candidate for re-election, and he will be succeeded by a Republican, H. M. Eddy. It is one of the most important offices, and should be filled by a first-class lawyer, although the salary does not correspond with the importance of the position.

INSULTING.—The Bodie Democratic sheet, pretending to be independent, has commenced its insulting references to the Republican county candidates. In its opinion none but Democrats are competent to fill an office in this county. The contemptible slurs of its sore-headed editor on William Stewart, Republican candidate for Sheriff, should bring to him the support of every Republican voter. The CHRONICLE-UNION has thrown no mud at Sheriff Cody, the Democratic nominee for re-election, and the throwing of mud at Republican candidates should be resented by a solid Republican vote. For the office of Sheriff, William Stewart is the equal of any Democrat in the county. He has been tried in responsible business positions and always acquitted himself to the satisfaction of his employers. As we said in a previous issue, he is a good business man, and well educated; is a good accountant. and will perform the duties pertaining to the office of Sheriff as well as any man in the county, then why not resent these insults, that Republicans are not fit to hold an office in a Republican county? Every two years we hear these insults.

TWENTY-ONERS.—At this election nineteen twenty-oners will vote in Mono county —7 Democrats and 12 Republicans.

WE congratulate everybody that the "mud slinging" term is fast drawing to a close.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE

Sept. 30, 1890.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors,

GENTLEMEN:—

I herewith submit Report for Quarter ending Sept. 30, 1890, as per Sections 4223 of Political Code of the State of California, and 36 of the County Government Act.

Respectfully yours,

O. H. KISTER,
County Auditor.

Indorsed: Auditor's Report for Quarter ending Sept. 30, 1890.

Examined and found correct, this 7th day of Oct., 1890.

N. B. HUNEWILL,
Chairman.

Filed Oct. 6, 1890.

THE POLITICAL POT.

The candidates are looming up,
The pot begins to boi[illegible]
And schemes as dar[illegible]gypt's night
Are starting to uncoi[illegible]

Ah, age of silent winks and nods,
Ye men of spotless fame,
And chaff, and guff, and sundry "todds,"
T'were ever thus the same.

An iron buttonhole will stand
The pressure of the fray.
A rubber stomach too is good,
Until election day.

They strive, this band of genial men,
Like bulls against the bears,
But lucky is the man at last,
Who climbs the Court House stairs.

He surely laid the deepest plot,
Yet innocent and tame,
He wins the goal; he seems surprised,
But, "gets there just the same."

LINCOLN'S MELANCHOLY.

His Sympathetic Nature and His Early Misfortunes.

Those who saw much of Abraham Lincoln during the later years of his life, were greatly impressed with the expression of profound melancholy his face always wore in repose.

Mr. Lincoln was of a peculiarly sympathetic and kindly nature. Those strong characteristics influenced, very happily, as it proved, his entire political career. They would not seem, at first glance, to be efficient aids to political success; but in the peculiar emergency which Lincoln, in the providence of God, was called to meet, no vessel of common clay could possibly have become the "chosen of the Lord."

Those acquainted with him from boyhood knew that early griefs tinged his whole life with sadness. His partner in the grocery business at Salem was "Uncle" Billy Green, of Tallula, Ill., who used at night, when customers were few, to hold the grammar while Lincoln recited his lessons.

It was to his sympathetic ear Lincoln told the story of his love for sweet Ann Rutlidge; and he, in return, offered what comfort he could when poor Ann died, and Lincoln's great heart nearly broke.

"After Ann died," says "Uncle" Billy, "on stormy nights, when the wind blew the rain against the roof, Abe would set thar in the grocery, his elbows on his knees, his face in his hands, and the tears runnin' through his fingers. I hated to see him feel bad, an' I'd say, 'Abe, don't cry'; an' he'd look up an' say 'I can't help it, Bill, the rain's a fallin' on her.'"

There are many who can sympathize with this overpowering grief, as they think of a lost loved one, when "the rain's a fallin' on her." What adds poignancy to the grief some times is the thought that the lost one might have been saved.

Fortunate, indeed, is William Johnson, of Corona, L. I., a builder, who writes June 28, 1890: "Last February, on returning from church one night, my daughter complained of having a pain in her ankle. The pain gradually extended until her entire limb was swollen and very painful to the touch. We called a physician, who after careful examination, pronounced it disease of the kidneys of long standing. All we could do, did not seem to benefit her until we tried Warner's Safe Cure; from the first she commenced to improve. When she commenced taking it she could not turn over in bed, and could just move her hands a little, but to-day she is as well as she ever was. I believe I owe the recovery of my daughter to its use."

A Rat Sacrifices a Leg.

A rat got caught by the leg in a store and squealed loudly for mercy, says a Maine exchange. The proprietor of the store watched the rat, which continued to squeal. Finally another rat crept cautiously out and walked up to his unfortunate companion and evidently took the situation in, for they seemed to talk with each other and arrived at the conclusion that the captured rat's chances were desperate, for the second one began to gnaw the unfortunate rat's leg off, allowing it to escape, which it did, limping away on three legs, the other leg remaining in the trap. It almost seemed as if they had deliberated over the case and had reached the only possible means of escape.

PACIFIC SEA ISLANDS.

Remains of a Civilisation of Remote Antiquity.

Mysterious Ruins Found in Places Inhabited at This Day by Tattooed Savages—A Great Field for Lovers of Archæology.

Modern science, which has brought to light buried Troy, revealed the place of ancient Babylon, untombed the mummy of the Pharaoh of Moses, and constructed somewhat of a history for the Aztecs and the mound-builders, stands baffled before the mysterious ruins of the Pacific Sea islands, writes a correspondent of the Chicago News.

Kusaie, otherwise known as Strong Island, of the Caroline archipelago, with a circumference of fifty miles, is covered with massive ruins of a remote date. They bear the outlines of fortifications, and are built of stones ten feet long, duly squared on six sides, of a geological formation not met with on the island."

Ascension Island, known also as Panape, is larger than Kusaie, possesses similar ruins, but much larger. In one place there remains a wall 300 feet long and 30 feet high, forming a court.

Little Easter Island, on the eastern outskirts of Polynesia, has no running water, no trees, nothing to attract inhabitants. Yet this island is peopled by Polynesians of the fair type, such as are found far away in the Society islands, and is covered with remains of a pre-historic civilization of which every record but that of stone has perished.

At the southwest end of the island there are to be found the ruins of nearly a hundred stone houses, built in regular lines and facing the sea. The walls of these houses are five feet thick and over five feet high, built of layers of flat stones and lined inside with flat slabs. Internally the houses measure about forty feet long by thirteen feet wide, and they are roofed over with slabs overlapping like tiles. The inside walls are painted in three colors—red, black and white—with figures of birds and mystic beasts and faces, and geometrical figures. In one of these houses was found a curious stone statue, eight feet high, and weighing about four tons, which is now in the British Museum.

The sea-cliffs near this ancient settlement are carved into grotesque shapes not unlike the paintings on the walls, and the coast is marked with hundreds of these strange sculptures.

Again, on each headland of the island there is an enormous stone platform, built of hewn blocks of great size fitted together without cement. They are built on sloping ground, presenting on the seaward side a wall-face twenty or thirty feet high and two or three hundred feet long, and on the landward side a wall of about three feet in height rising from a leveled terrace.

Upon these platforms are stone pedestals which have supported images, and on some broken figures remain. On one platform fifteen images were found, in size ranging from three to thirty-five feet in height. They are of human shape, representing the upper part of the body only, with arms and hands close to the sides. The heads are cut flat to allow of crowns being placed on them, which crowns seem to have been made, not of the same material as the statues, but of red tufa. This has been traced to an extinct crater within a few miles of the houses, and on the brink of this crater a large number of crowns were found, finished and ready for removal before some strange fate depeopled the island of these ancient worshipers.

The images themselves are made of gray lava, which is only found at quite another crater at the other end of the island. At this crater—called Otoull—there are several finished and partly finished images, just as they were left by the workmen. The head of one of these measures twenty feet from the nape of the neck to the crown. The faces of the images have well-defined features, with thin lips, broad noses, expanded nostrils, and a general disdainful expression. It is believed, from the appearance of the eye-sockets, that obsidian eyeballs were intended to be inserted. The ears are very carefully carved, and are prominent.

There are also, in different parts of the island, wooden tablets covered with curious carvings and strange hieroglyphics, which no one can explain.

At Oparo, or Rapaiti, Captain Vine Hall found a temple, or castle, in five stages, surrounded by walls which inclose stone houses, and also square platforms of stone on the sides of one of the hills, similar to those on Easter island. This isle is 2,000 miles from Panape, but the inhabitants of the latter say their ancestors came from Oparo.

Who were these ancient people? The ruins present an antiquity equal to that of the prehistoric civilizations of America. The present inhabitants are simply tattooed savages. The ancient race possessed intelligence far beyond anything now found in the Pacific; had ideas of architecture, sculpture, painting and engineering and an elaborate religion. Archæologists and ethnologists have given us no light yet. The mystery of the Pacific awaits solution.

The True Gentleman of Leisure.

We hear a great deal about gentlemen of leisure. Your true gentleman of leisure is the man who does not have to work for his living; but who, out of the gentleness and chivalry of his nature, delights so to live as to be a help and an encouragement, and perchance a burden bearer, for those who are compelled to work, in order to keep alive and maintain their self respect. No man of leisure can maintain his claim to be called a gentleman, when he is merely a loafer, a trifler, or a pleasure seeker. Such use of life makes one ungentle, selfish, base.
